MEDINA COMPANY WILL MAKE NEW MACHINE

Invention the Work of Local Genius.

Officials of the Medina Mfg. Co. announce that they will launch upon the market about Oct. 1 a new washing machine, designed by their engineers and which has been in the experimental stage for the past two years.

According to the company their new product comprises several important improvements over other similar machines and has been pronounced by experts to be the most serviceable and least expensive washing machine that has thus far been brought out.

Several of these machines have recently been completed, one of which the company states it will give away during the annual fair here next week.

The machine is driven on ball and roller bearings, thus gaining a minimum of friction, while a separate pulley attachment renders it particularly adaptable for use in farm homes.

The favor with which the machine has appealed to a number of dealers and agents who have examined it and witnessed it in operation and their expressed desire to handle the output, justifies the manufacturers in the belief that the ultimate production will prove a great and growing adjunct to their present business.

Notwithstanding the present industrial depression in this and every other section of the country, the Medina Mfg. Co. has been running right along, altho of course not with normal force. At the present time the force is about 30 per cent of normal.

S. S. CONFERENCE IN MEDINA OCT. 1

Each Township Planning to be Represented.

The annual institute and conference of the Young People's Division of the Medina County Sunday School association will be held in Medina on Saturday, Oct. 1, and preparations are being made throughout the county to have the largest possible representation from every township.

Several Sunday school workers of state-wide note have promised to attend and take part in the conference, among whom are Walter C. Moore and Miss Alice E. May of Columbus, the former State Young People's Superintendent, and the latter state worker for girls. Also Attorney Charles Bell, a well-known speaker of Cleveland, and Miss Carrie Richards, likewise of Cleveland, who will bring a special and live message for the girls.

A parade and various field sports will be a feature of the afternoon, followed by a banquet at 6:30, when will be held the closing session.

Miss Dorothy Kindig of Lafayette is president of the girls and David Hurlbauf of Medina, president of the boys.

KIWANIS LADIES' NIGHT

Local Kiwanians and their wives and other guests including a number of members of the recently-formed Berea Kiwanis club and their wives to the number of about 200 enjoyed dinner at the Congregational church dining room last Thursday evening, and also heard one of the best addresses ever given in Medina, the speaker being Harry F. Attwood, of Chicago, and his subject, "The Constitution Our Safeguard." Asserting that the Constitution is the greatest governmental achievement since creation, and that he believed it to have been as much inspired as the bible. Mr. Attwood deplored the widespread ignorance of its contents and true significance and the lack of attention given to it in curriculums of schools and colleges.

He attacked the principles of the initiative and referendum, and recall, declaring them subversive of the constitutional concept.

Former County Auditor Homer J. Hale, now of Hamilton, Ontario, was present and gave a brief and interesting talk concerning the present amicable relations between Canada and the United States and expressing the hope that nothing should ever be allowed to mar or disrupt those relations. Mr. Hale is a charter member of the Hamilton Kiwanis club, the first club to receive its charter in Canada, and which made the great Kiwanis movement international.

NEAR RIOT AT THE FOUNDRY

Presence of Sheriff, Mayor and Deputies Forstall Outbreak.

DISGRUNTLED GROUP BLAMED FOR TROUBLE

Threats of Personal Violence Prevent Many Men From Returning to Work.

That a riot was not enacted Tuesday morning at the plant of the Henry Furnace and Foundry Co. is doubtless due to the presence there of Sheriff Bigelow, Deputy Hange, Marshal White, Mayor Hartzog and others who had been deputized for the occasion.

The foundry company, which had shut down about two weeks ago when a strike of some of its men seemed imminent, had expected to open up again Tuesday because of an expressed desire of a number of the men to return to work. Before the shut-down a group of the employees had become dissatisfied with the present superintendent, John Kemp, to whom they attributed cut in wages. When it became apparent to the company that there was likely to be a walk-out, they promptly shut down the plant without waiting for it.

In doing so, however, the company announced to the men that they could come back to work if they were willing to accept existing conditions at the plant. At the time and ever since it has been known to the company that many of the men out of work did not return because of fear of a certain group who precipitated the trouble and who, it is reported, have threatened violence to any of the men who returned.

Two or three men, in defiance of threats, did return to work, and under threats of violence, appealed to the company to afford them protection to and from their work. Particularly was this condition evidenced when on Monday Deputy Sheriff Hange was detailed to escort Charles Dix and Walter Pinkerton from the plant to their homes.

Many of the former negro and Hungarian employees have informed the company they are anxious to go to work, but are in mortal fear of the disgruntled gang who are responsible for the trouble.

Two men whom the authorities believed to be members of the group who have been threatening the men who returned to work were called to his office by Sheriff Bigelow Monday night for a conference, but the men denied having tried to intimidate anyone. It was on the strength of information that had come to them, however, that the officers appeared at the foundry early Tuesday morning.

At that time Sheriff Bigelow promptly addressed the seventy-five or more men who had gathered, not only appealing to their common sense, but emphatically warning them against interfering with anyone who desired to return to work, giving the latter assurance that they would be accorded the fullest protection, night and day, should it become necessary.

Despite this assurance, when the Sheriff had finished, the men quietly slunk away, none of them possessed of sufficient courage to enter the plant and resume work.

The company states that the attitude of the men in remaining away from work is causing no annoyance to them so far as business is concerned, as what little work the company has at this time can be easily handled from their own factory. Nevertheless, they state, there is enough work to keep the plant going and they would be glad to give employment to such a number of men as they can use providing these men peaceably return to work.

About 18 of the former employees held a conference Tuesday afternoon and decided to return to work Wednesday morning, regardless of any untoward conditions their actions might precipitate.

Sheriff Bigelow received a telephone call from Seville Tuesday evening that several employees on the road work there after receiving their pay were flourishing revolvers and making themselves generally odious. The Sheriff went to Seville, but the men had left before his arrival.

DEATH IN CLEVELAND OF MARY H. McCABE

NABBED BY OFFICER, MAN CONFESSES THEFT

The suspicious actions of a man around a box car near the Northern Ohio depot late Friday night attracted the attention of Deputy Sheriff Hange, who accosted him and after gaining a confession that he had stolen a bicycle on the public square earlier in the evening, lodged him in jail. The man gave his name as Edward Tucker, 19, and the residence of his parents as Ravenna, O. Tucker had recently been working on the South Broadway improvement, but having tired of the job, he stated, had decided to go to Akron. For the last two or three nights he had been allowed to lodge in the fire station in the town hall, thus Officer Hange recognized him when he met him in the railroad yard.

A bicycle he had with him Tucker stated was loaned to him by an employee of the Princess theater. When Hange suggested that Tucker's statement would have to be verified, the latter winced and came clean.

Tucker was arrested in Medina about two years ago, on word received from Ravenna authorities that he had run away from home.

BOYER TO RUN ON INDEPENDENT TICKET

Friends of Mayor F. W. Boyer of Wadsworth, who was defeated for renomination by J. C. Whitlam at the primary election, have filed petitions with the county board of elections to run Boyer on an independent ticket at the November election. Whitlam defeated Boyer for the nomination by one vote.

Fred Falk, Democratic candidate for mayor of Wadsworth, is elated over the possibilities that seem to be looming up by reason of the three-cornered fight.

BEACH GETS OPTION ON CHIPPEWA LAKE

That Chippewa Lake was likely to be disposed of soon by the Chippewa Lake Community Company, was announced exclusively in the Sentinel about three weeks ago.

That the transfer is about to take place seems probable since a meeting of the Community Co.'s stockholders last Friday night, when A. M. Beach, manager of Chippewa Lake park, was given an option upon the lake for $45,000.

As was previously stated by the Sentinel it is the purpose to organize a stock company to handle the lake proposition and to carry out many enlargements and other changes on the lake grounds desired and needed.

Mr. Beach holds a 24-year lease on the lake from the Community Company, and title to it is necessary before the new company can be organized.

The Medina band will give a complimentary concert next Monday evening for the benefit of the clerks in business places.
